

Yusuf Muhammad

At a very young age as a student in high school, Curious to know how to program I developed a serious interest in programming. This keen interest in computers along with passion for solving problems prompted me to choose Computer Science as my major. This decision gave me ample opportunity to consolidate my creative energies and harness my technical aptitude. I have built so many products in Software Engineering.

As a passionate Software Engineer with experience in Software Engineering, I enjoy implementing light and scalable solutions using the best Agile practices for the satisfaction I get by overcoming challenges. I am very flexible with different technologies, so I can learn and adapt to new environments quickly and build solutions around them.
